

Landlords, we're protecting your property when it matters most.

Burst pipes and broken windows wait for no one. Whether it's in the early hours of the morning or 9 pm on Friday, emergency repairs can put a strain on tenants, contractors, and your property. There's a better way to manage repairs and maintenance – and we're bringing it to you.

Our out-of-hours emergency callouts save you time, money, and resources. We source contractors for you using a rigorous vetting and compliance check process, so you can rest assured that your property is in safe hands. We've also got weekends and evenings covered with total out-of-hours, end-to-end repair management. What else can we do? We're glad you asked...

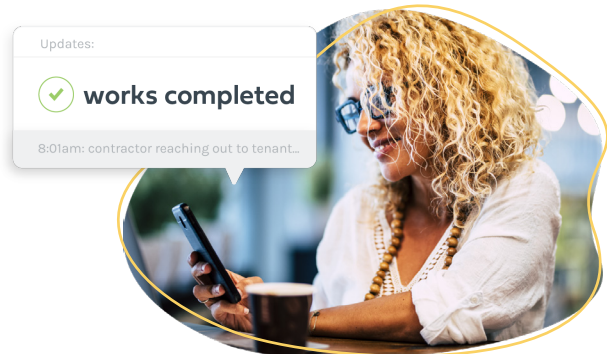

Reason 1: Cut down costs

Only genuine emergencies triaged by one of our qualified contractors will result in a callout, meaning you'll eliminate unnecessary callout charges. What's more, with our quick call-out times, you'll be able to nip problems in the bud, saving money on extensive repairs or replacements and protecting the integrity of your investment.

Reason 2: Protect your property with speedy repairs

We operate using SLA's that ensure all repairs are handled efficiently and effectively. We ensure that tenants will be called within 30 minutes of a repair being reported, and for emergency callouts, there will be a qualified contractor on-site within 4 hours.

Reason 3: Greater tenant satisfaction

Out-of-hours repairs can be stressful for everyone involved, and tenants often don't feel heard. Out-of-hours emergency callouts help you drive positive tenant engagement with a quick, responsive and reliable service.

Enjoy fast repairs, reliable contractors, and peace of mind.
